

Joint Panel 1: Shifting identities and constitutional resettlements – Europeanisation through crisis?

(Panel convened by French Politics Specialist Group, German Politics Specialist Group, Greek Politics Specialist Group, Italian Politics Specialist Group, Nordic Politics Specialist Group, Turkish Politics Specialist Group)

Chair/Discussant: Hartwig Pautz, University of West of Scotland

European Constitution(s) Resettled: have Germany's Eastern and refugee policies and the Brexit phenomenon effected a sovereignty resettlement in their national constitutions?

Jim McConalogue, Open University

From the Democratization criteria to the Eurozone criteria: Greece's troublesome "Europeanization", Europe's troubled integration

Konstantina E. Botsiou, University of the Peloponnese

Refugees and the failed European identity: two sides of the same coin. An approach through Giorgio Agamben and Étienne Balibar

Carlos Corrochano Pérez, Association for the Study of Modern Italy.

Joint Panel 2: Governing in Europe – Governance of Europe

(Panel convened by French Politics Specialist Group, German Politics Specialist Group, Greek Politics Specialist Group, Italian Politics Specialist Group, Nordic Politics Specialist Group, Turkish Politics Specialist Group)

Chair/Discussant: Emily St Denny, University of Sterling

British exceptionalism within the EU has created the Brexit conundrum

Professor John Ryan, LSE IDEAS

Resonance and popular sovereignty. Left-wing Euroscepticism in France and Germany

Enrico Reuter, University of York

Capitalising on constraint: The politics of conditionality in bailed out countries during and after the Eurozone crisis

Catherine Moury, Nova University, Portugal

Stella Ladi, Queen Mary University of London and Panteion University

Daniel Cardoso, Nova University Portugal

Angie Gago, University of Lausanne

Quality of Government, Trust and Crisis in Southern Europe: Understanding varied responses to MoU conditionality in Portugal and Greece

Christos J. Paraskevopoulos, University of Macedonia

Public Opinion, Elections and Discourse in Contemporary Greece

Chair/ Discussant: Stella Ladi, Queen Mary University of London and Panteion University

"Return to normality": Unpacking a discursive repertoire

Antonis Galanopoulos, Aristotle University of Thessaloniki

Responsibility, blame and valence. Aspects of economic voting in Greece between 2015 and 2019 legislative elections

Anastasia Kafe, Panteion University

Vasilis Logothetis, Cardiff University

The Greek diasporic vote: a constitutional duty or a political privilege?

Vasiliki Poula, University of Oxford

Greek anti-Americanism between past and present

Lamprini Rori, University of Exeter

Eirini Karamouzi, University of Sheffield

Thematic Panel 1: Political Violence in Contemporary Greece

(Panel Convened by Vasiliki Georgiadou, Panteion University and Lamprini Rori, University of Exeter)

Chair: Vasiliki Georgiadou, Panteion University

Discussant: Georgios Karyotis, University of Glasgow

The Assassination of Thanos Axarlian as a Breakthrough in the Perceptions of Victims of Terrorism

Angelos Nastoulis, National and Kapodistrian University of Athens

The Violent Extremist Avant-garde of the Far-left/Anarchists in Current Greece: The Case of the Anarchist Collectivity "Rouvikonas"

Andriani Retzepe, National and Kapodistrian University of Athens

The Rise and Fall of Golden Dawn: A Contentious Politics Perspective

Sotirios Karampampas, University of Essex

The Landscape of Political Violence in Crisis-Ridden Greece

Lamprini Rori, University of Exeter

Vasiliki Georgiadou, Panteion University

Costas Roumanias, Economic University of Athens and Business

Thematic Panel 2: Political Violence: Theoretical and Comparative Perspectives

Chair: Lamprini Rori, University of Exeter

Discussant: TBC

The Concept of Violence in (Times of) Crisis. On Structural, Institutional and Anti-institutional Violence

Marilena Drymioti, Erasmus University

Exploring the Citizenship Understandings of Participants in Contemporary Civil Unrests: A Comparative Analysis of the Greek Uprising in 2008 and the Turkish protests in 2013

Ioanna Sakali, University of Edinburgh

Localising 'Radicalisation': Risk Assessment Practices in Greece and the UK
Dimitrios Skleparis, Newcastle University
Rita Augenstad Knudsten, Norwegian Institute of International Affairs