GPSG Newsflash 04/22

Events and Notices

25 October 2022

Dear Colleagues,

The Greek Politics Specialist Group is pleased to share the following news and details about events, calls for papers, training opportunities and publications:

GPSG NEWS

1. GPSG - BSA Roundtable: Monday 21 November 2022, 19:00 - 20:30 (EEST)

We are happy to announce that the Joint Seminar of the Greek Politics Specialist Group and the British School at Athens on Modern Greek Studies will run for a third consecutive year. The 1st roundtable discussion will be chaired by the new director of the British School, Rebecca Sweetman. It will take place on a hybrid mode on Monday 21 November 2022, from 19.00 to 20.15.

Political violence in Greece: continuities and new directions

Since the Athens riots of 2008, Greece has experienced serious episodes of violence with clear political connotations. Framed as a fight against austerity, an expression of anti-immigrant stances or an anti-establishment struggle, political violence has reached unprecedented levels. The panel will address current debates and newly emerging topics in political violence. including the strategic use of violence. its causes and consequences, spatial and temporal dynamics of violence, continuities and discontinuities of political violence, the connections between nonviolent action and political violence as well as between different types of violence. It focuses on both right-wing and left-wing extremism in order to understand their evolution in the post-1974 era, their similarities, differences and interactions.

Speakers:

- Roman Gerodimos, Bournemouth University
- Vasiliki Georgiadou, Panteion University of Social and Political Sciences
- Stathis Kalyvas, All Souls College, University of Oxford
- Lamprini Rori, National and Kapodistrian University of Athens
- Nicolas Sevastakis, Aristotle University of Thessaloniki

Coordinator: Eirini Karamouzi, University of Sheffield

In order to register for in person or online attendance, please follow the link.

2. GPSG Panels at the PSA Annual Conference

The GPSG is pleased to announce the organisation of two panels at the 73rd Political Studies Association (PSA) Annual International Conference, convened by the University of Liverpool on 3rd-5th April 2023.

Panel 1: Political Attitudes, Discursive Constructions in the Greek Society and Political System

5. New Book: "Interdisciplinary Approaches of Shame/ Violence Theory. Breaking the Cycle" edited by Roman Gerodimos

The book takes James Gilligan's theory of shame and violence as a starting point for an application of the model across disciplines (psychology, sociology, philosophy, political science, cultural studies, history, architecture and urban studies) and levels of analysis (from the individual to the global). More specifically, it:

- Blends theory and practice, with accessible essays, conversations and research chapters essays, conversations and research chapters

- Facilitates an interdisciplinary dialogue across the social sciences and the humanities
- Seeks solutions for the future, by collating and curating recommendations

6. GPSG Blog

The GPSG encourages submissions from academics and researchers studying Greek politics, as well as practitioners and policy makers with significant expertise in the latter field. We are interested in submissions covering a wide range of topics with a focus on Greece, while we particularly encourage submissions covering less studied issues. Suggested length for each blogpost is 800 words, yet we are happy to accommodate longer posts when appropriate.

To submit an article for consideration, please e-mail it to Angelos Angelou and Alexandros Kyriakidis in a Word file.

7. GPSG Working Papers

The GPSG welcomes scholarly working papers, as well as preliminary or interim reports of ongoing research. There is no word limit, although we encourage prospective contributors to aim for a length of 3,000 – 4,000 words (research reports) and 4,000 – 8,000 words (full papers). All submitted papers go through peer-review, thus, receiving much constructive feedback that facilitates their future development. We strongly encourage PhD researchers and junior scholars to submit their work.

To submit a working paper, please e-mail it to Angelos Angelou.
